John Crandall, born ca 1705, was a great grandson of Elder John Crandall. His first wife, Mary Crandall, was a granddaughter of Elder John Crandall. Because of their marriage, we are related to two sons of Elder John Crandall. Rev. Joseph Crandall was a son of Elder John Crandall and his first wife whose name is unknown at this time. Rev. Crandall and his wife, Deborah Burdick, were the parents of John F. Crandall who was the father of John Crandall, Jr. The junior Crandall's first wife, Mary Crandall, was a daughter of Eber Crandall and his third wife, May Cottrell. Eber Crandall was a son of Elder John Crandall and his second wife, Hannah Gaylord.

John Crandall, born ca 1705, was a great grandson of Elder John Crandall. His first wife, Mary Crandall, was a granddaughter of Elder John Crandall. Because of their marriage, we are related to two sons of Elder John Crandall. Rev. Joseph Crandall was a son of Elder John Crandall and his first wife whose name is unknown at this time. Rev. Crandall and his wife, Deborah Burdick, were the parents of John F. Crandall who was the father of John Crandall, Jr. The junior Crandall's first wife, Mary Crandall, was a daughter of Eber Crandall and his third wife, May Cottrell. Eber Crandall was a son of Elder John Crandall and his second wife, Hannah Gaylord.

Dear Betty Leach:

Did you think I had forgotten you? I did not but this has been the busiest year since I have been Historian'!. There have been so many new people coming in for History on their families, Buildings, and now the New York State schools have the 4th and 7th grades taking a course in Local History and all together it has been a very busy place.

How are you progressing with your "Head Hunt"?

I have a friend in the upper part of our Town who was a Crandall, but she thinks there was a different family by the same name in Caldwell. However, I believe there is a connection somewhere. I have told her about you. Her name is Mrs. Helen (Crandall) Remington, 11 First Avenue, Warrensburg, N. Y. 12885. Her relatives were early settlers in the area and were very civic minded citizens. Thomas and Lewis Crandall. One of them was a very well-known Lawyer in his time.I thought perhaps you might be interested in writing to her. There may be an important link to connect your two families

I am enclosing some copies which may be of some help on your Wheeler-Crandall family.

I hope there will be something you will be able to use. I do not have any thing on Bathsheba

May you have good luck in finding the missing links. Let me know if I can be of further help .

Sincerely,

Mabel M. Tucker, Historian

Lewis A. Crandall Succumbs; Former Welfare Commissioner

Lewis A. Crandall, 47, former Warren County Commissioner of Public Welfare, died suddenly Saturday night at his home in Oak St., Warrensburg.

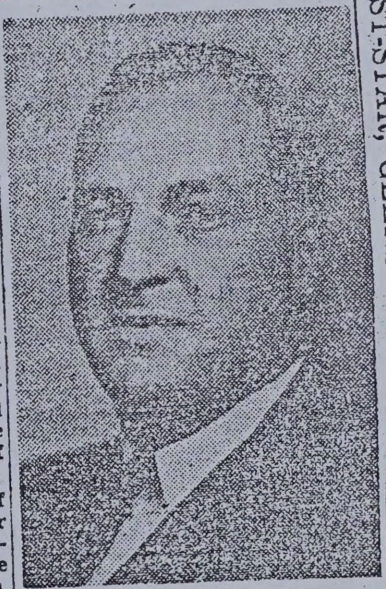
Mr. Crandall served as Commissioner of Public Welfare from 1946 to 1950. A Democrat, he was elected by a wide margin.

Mr. Crandall also was superintendent of highways in Warrensburg in 1934 and 1935.

He had conducted a grain and hardware business in Oak St., for many years, and was local representative of the American Railway Express Co. He was long interested in harness racing and was active among the racing horse owners of the area.

Mr. Crandall was a member of the Board of Education, a former chief of the Warrensburg Fire Department, and a member of the company at the time of his death. He also was a member of the Methodist Church, of Warrensburg Lodge, 425, F. and A.M., and Warrensburg Lodge, 488, IOOF.

Survivors include his wife, the former Edith Fuller of Blue Mountain Lake; one son, Lewis S. Crandall, and a daughter, Mary E. Crandall, all of Warrensburg; two sisters, Mrs. George M. Remington of Warrensburg, and Mrs. J. E. Tune of Rochester; two nieces and two nephews.



LEWIS A. CRANDALL

The body is at the Orton and McCloskey Funeral Home, where friends may call today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m., at the funeral home. The Rev. Alan F. Bain, pastor of the United Protestant Church of Fort Ann, a former pastor of the Warrensburg Methodist Church will officiate. Interment will be in Warrensburg Cemetery.

Members of the Odd Fellows Lodge will meet at the funeral home at 7:30 this evening for services, and members of Warrensburg Lodge, 425, F. and A.M., will meet at 7:30 at the Masonic Temple and proceed in a body to the funeral home for ritualistic services at 8.

Friends who desire are requested to make contributions to the Warrensburg Methodist Church in memory of Mr. Crandall.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

FIRST GENERATION

1. JOHN CRANDALL, Colonial pioneer, First Baptist Elder, Deputy Commissioner, and statesman of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island, the head of the Crandall family in America, was born in Monmouthshire, England, on the line between England and Wales in 1612. His mother is supposed to have been a Scotch lady. He came to Boston within a very few years after the landing of the Pilgrims, in 1634. Several writers have ascertained that he was associated with the Congregational Church at Salem as 1635 and that "he was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637" and while there are many reasons for believing these statements correct and that John Crandall, as a close associate of Roger Williams was one of the founders of Providence, unfortunately it seems impossible certainly to confirm them. Many of the original Providence records were early destroyed.

The first valid documentary account of John Crandall in New England shows him to have been actively identified with the Baptist Church in Newport, July 21, 1651. His name next is found, with that of Matthew West in a Freeman's list of Newport, 1655.

John Crandall was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly, "Elder Crandall was well calculated both by talent and sufferings to lead his people in their devotions. He took an active part in the border difficulties between Massachusetts and Connecticut and subsequently between Connecticut and Rhode Island, concerning the lines between the states."

"With other founders of Westerly Mr. Crandall settled on the Misquamicutt land before 1665. He was commissioner for a number of years, served as deputy from both Newport and Westerly, and in other capacities which evidence that he was a man of importance. Through the seven sons of Elder Crandall the name became a common one and the family numerous in Rhode Island." (From "Representative men and old families of Rhode Island.)

Through the marriage of Elder John Crandall's sons and daughters, the family became allied with other important pioneer families who were prominent in the early history of Rhode Island, and New England. Among these were the Gorton, Babcock, Burdick, Hubbard, and Witter families.

The name or origin of his first wife is not known, but it is recorded that she died in 1670 and was buried August 2 of that year in Westerly. From examination of the birth and marriage records of their children, and the dates at which sons were listed as freemen, it may be inferred that John Crandall was first married about the year 1649. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

Elder John Crandall died before November 29, 1676 at Newport where he was sojourning on account of the Indian War (King Philip's War).

The "Journal of American History" gives the following sketch of the life of Elder John Crandall, which is substantially correct with the probable exception of the account of his activities prior to 1651.

As early as 1635 Rev. John Crandall, who is believed to have been of Welsh ancestry, was living in Salem where, as elsewhere in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, there was at this time much opposition to all dissenters from the authorized tenets of the Puritans. John Crandall was the minister of the Salem church, but he adopted the opinions of the Baptists, which were very obnoxious to the Congregationalists, and in the autumn of 1635 he was dismissed as pastor. As did so many others of the early Baptists of New England he determined to settle in the Narragansett country. The Indians proved friendly and he obtained from them a grant of land. He has been called one of the founders of Providence. He was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637.

In 1669 he appears in "a list of the Free Inhabitants of the Town of Westerle" May the 18, (John Crandall's name headed the list). Directly after this he, with Tobias Saunders, was authorized by the colony to summon juries and hold corts, they being appointed "Conservators of His Majesty's Peace."

John Crandall was one of the original purchasers from Chief Sosoa of Narragansett of the Misquamicutt tribe, of the land comprising Westerly, from which Hopkinton was later formed. The townships of Westerly, Hopkinton, Charlestown and Richmond, as they now are, were a tract called by the Indians Misquamicutt and on August 27, 1661 John Crandall was one of the nine signers of a petition to the Court of Commissioners for the Colony of Providence Plantations, in session at Portsmouth, for the purchase of that part of the tract which became Westerly. His house was near Burdens Pond and a part of it now stands, as one room in the homestead occupied by lineal descendants, of the ninth and tenth generations. Across from the house in the old orchard field is the original cemetery, in which twenty seven bodies are buried. There are three rows of graves containing nine bodies each. These rows of graves run parallel with a swamp near by. Elder John is buried in the row nearest the swamp in the end grave to the left as one stands facing the swamp. Next to his grave is that of his son John. Each of the twenty seven graves is indicated by a field stone some 14 inches in width, appearing four to eight inches above the ground set at the head while a smaller stone marks the foot of the grave. There is no inscription on any of the stones. On the 6th day of October 1932 A. Julian Crandall of Ashaway, Rhode Island and Rev. Wm. S. Crandall of Binghamton, New York, standing in the little historical burying ground, agreed that a suitable marker should be placed thereupon. They further concluded that a large native field granite boulder with a bronze plaque properly lettered, embedded in the same would be most suitable. The two third cousins resolved that they would sponser the project. He was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly and held a number of public offices at various times. In 1658, 1659, 1662, 1663 he was a Commissioner, and was a Deputy to the General Court in 1667, 1670 and 1671, representing Westerly during the two latter terms.

He had lived prior to his settlement at Westerly, at Newport.

There was much dispute between the colonies of Massachusetts and Connecticut as to their jurisdictions, and especially as to jurisdiction over grants in Rhode Island, which however, had been confirmed by a royal charter to their purchasers. A claim was made in 1662 by Connecticut of land reaching beyond Misquamicutt to Narragansett Bay. On October 17, 1667 a letter was sent by the Connecticut authorities to those of Rhode Island, complaining that John Crandall had taken possession of about a square mile of land, which he had laid out to his son, on the west side of the Pawcatuck River. On May 14, 1669 he and Joseph Torrey were appointed commissioners for the purpose of conferring with the Connecticut authorities concerning these land disputes. Certain individuals lent thirty five shillings to the Colony of Rhode Island in order to pay the expenses of Mr. Crandall to Connecticut. A few months later, on November 18, the governor and assistants of Connecticut sent a letter complaining that John Crandall and some others had appropriated a large tract of land in the township of Stonington, Connecticut. A reply to this complaint was sent by the Town of Westerly on March 11, 1669, signed by John Crandall and Tobias Saunders, in which all illegal seizure of land or other offense against the Colony of Connecticut was denied, and a counter charge was made; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs that we have sustained by them for many years." In 1671 the dispute grew so serious that Mr. Crandall, with others, were actually carried off by the Connecticut authorities and was imprisoned at Hartford. On May 2 of that year the Rhode Island assembly advised him not to yield to Connecticut's claims and assured him of the Colony's support and that his financial losses would be borne by the Colony.

The Reverend John Crandall was twice married. The name of his first wife is unknown, but she died in 1670 and was buried on August 2 of that year. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

The subjoining summary recorded events in the later life of John Crandall "of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island" is from Austin's Authoritative Volumes "Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island," and "One Hundred and Sixty Allied Families of Rhode Island."

John Crandall was early associated with the Baptists, at Newport, subsequently becoming the first Elder of that denomination at Westerly.

1651, July 21. He, with John Clarke and Obediah Holmes, "being the representatives of the Church of Newport, upon the request of William Witter, of Lynn, arrived there, he being a brother in the Church, who by reason of his advanced age, could not undertake so great a journey as to visit the church. William Witter lived about two miles out of Lynn and the next day being Sunday, they spent in religious services at his house, and were there apprehended by two constables at the instance of the Massachusetts authorities, while Mr. Clarke was preaching, and the next morning they were sent to prison in Boston. For the dire offense of holding this little meeting, and on other frivolous pretexts Obediah Holmes was fined, imprisoned and whipped.

1651, July 31. He was sentenced to pay a fine of L5 or be publically whipped. He was released from prison upon his promise of appearing at next court.

1658; 59; 62; 63 Commissioner.

1661, August 27, he and eight others signed a letter of the Court of Commissioners of Rhode Island, concerning a tract of land at Westerly, that they and others desired approbation and assistance of Rhode Island in settling upon.

1661, September 9. He had half a share at Westerly assigned him.

1667, Deputy.

1667, October 17, Westerly. He was complained of in a letter from Connecticut to Rhode Island authorities, for having come on west side of Pawcatuck River and laid out about a mile square of land to his son.

1669, May 14. He and Joseph Torrey were appointed Commissioners to treat with Connecticut relative to jurisdiction of lands. The sum of 35 shillings was lent to the Colony of Rhode Island by individuals for John Crandall's voyage to Connecticut.

1669, May 18. His name was on the List of Inhabitants. (Westerly)

1669, November 18. A letter was sent him by Governor and Assistants, of Connecticut, complaining that he and others had appropriated a great parcel of Stonington township, and seeking for satisfaction.

1669, March 11. He and Tobias Saunders answered on behalf of Westerly denying any guilt in matter complained of; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs we have sustained by them several years." The letter closes: "As for your advice to agree with those, our neighbors of Stonington and the other gentlemen we hope that your colony and ours, will in the first place lovingly agree, and then we question not but that there will be an agreement between us and our neighbors of Stonington, and the rest of the gentlemen."

1670, June 19. He as Conservator of the Peace of Westerly, wrote a letter a little prior to this date, to the Governor of Rhode Island, informing him "of an entrance made into our jurisdiction by some of Connecticut, and of their carrying away some inhabitants prisoners."

1670, August 2. His first wife was buried.

1670, October 3. He deeded eldest son, John of Newport, "for love &c., all my goods, chattels, debts, household utensils, and all other personal estate, movable or immovable quick or dead-- putting him in quiet and peaceable possession by payment of 1s in silver, by his son."

1670, 1671. Deputy from Westerly.

1671, January 30. Bills were allowed by Assembly, for hire of a boat to go to Narragansett with Mr. John Crandall Sr. in the year 1670 and for hire of Sarah Reape's horse for use of Mr. John Crandall to go to Hartford.

1671, May 2. He, having been "as is asserted" apprehended and now is in durance, by the Colony of Connecticut and having desired the advice of the Governor &c. of Rhode Island whether to give bond or abide imprisonment, the Colony will bear his charges and endeavor to justify his actings therein.

1671, May 6. He was allowed 20 shillings, to bear his charge to Connecticut.

1675, January 23. In a letter from Ruth Burdick, to her father Samuel Hubbard, of Newport, she says, "Brother Crandall hath the ague and fever still, and have been but little amongst us this winter, Sister Crandall is brought to bed with a son, and is in a hopeful way." (Ruth Burdick's daughter Deborah (Samuel Hubbard's granddaughter) later married Elder John Crandall's son (by his first wife) Joseph.

He died in Newport, having moved there on account of the Indian War.

1676, November 29. Under this date Samuel Hubbard, writes from Newport to Mr. Edward Stennitt in London, and after speaking of the devastation caused by King Philip's War, he recounts the recent deaths in the First Baptist Church. He says: "of the old' church, First Mr. Joseph Torrey, then my dear brother John Crandall, then Mr. John Clarke, then William Weeden, a deacon, then John Salmon; a sad stroke in very deed, young men and maids to this day I never knew or heard the like in New England." Samuel Hubbard also wrote a few years later; "my dear brother John Crandall of Squamicut, is dead and his first wife, a Sabbath keeper, the first that died in that blessed faith in New England."

His second wife was Hannah Gaylord, born 30 Jan. 1647, and probably was daughter of William and Ann (Porter) Gaylord, of Windsor, Connecticut. The said Hannah married a Crandall as is shown by the settlement of her brother Hezekiah Gaylord's estate in 1677. Elder John Crandall died at Newport November 29, 1676. From the compiler the following data of Elder John has been furnished: That he was born probably Shropshire, England near the Welch border. The western portion of this county was formerly a part of Wales and later annexed to England. Hence the reason why some authorities have made the assertion that Elder John Crandall was a Welchman. One good authority states that he died 29 Nov. 1676 at the age of 67 yrs. which would indicate that he was born in 1609 and judging from the known ages of some of his associates, this would seem probable. His first wife by whom he had 7 children has not been positively identified but record shows that she died 1 Aug. 1670. (Mildred Small of Etna, Pa. states she found in the records in Washington, D.C. that the first wife of Elder John was Mary Opp who died 20 Aug. 1669) Elder John married second, Hannah Gaylord, b. 30 Jan. 1647; d. 3 Aug. 1678. After the death of Eld. John his widow married, second, John Cottrell, Jr. Hannah Gaylord was the dau. of William (William, John Nicholas) and Ann (Porter) Gaylord.

2 JOHN CRANDALL, of Eld. John, b. abt. 1649 in Newport, R.I.; d. 1704; m. 18 June, 1672 in Warwick, R.I. by John Green, J.P., Elizabeth Gorton, dau. of Samuel and Mary (Maplet) Gorton. (one record gives her as Elizabeth (Burton) Gorton). (Samuel Gorton b. 1592; d. 1677; was in Boston 1636; Plymouth 1638; settled in Warwick, R.I. 1641).

John called himself the son and heir of John Crandall of Newport, deceased. He confirmed to his "beloved brothers Jeremiah and Eber, now resident of Newport, and in tuition of their mother, Hannah Crandall, a certain house formerly the Mansion House of my father John Crandall together with 200 acres thereto belonging, lying and being in westerly."

12 Dec. 1682 he sold to George Lawton, Jr. of Freeman's Lands, New Plymouth, certain land in Narragansett for 40s.

His will was dated 25 Jan. 1704, proved 14 Aug. 1704, made wife Elizabeth exrx; named friend Job Babcock, brother Peter, and son-in-law Stephen Wilcox overseers; gave to son John 5s he "having had already"; son Peter, westermost part of the farm I now dwell on; son Samuel rest of the land and housing; dau. 3 JAMES CRANDALL, of Eld. John, b. 1651 probably in Newport, R.I.; took oath of allegiance in Westerly 17 Sept. 1679; freeman in Westerly 1681.

(Howard Stillman Crandall of Westerly spent many years compiling the Crandall records. He worked especially on the line of James and the following is taken from his letter to Prof. Albert Rogers Crandall)

James became dissatisfied with the settlement of his father's estate (leaving all to the eldest son which was the old English custom); left home when he became 21, going down the Pawcatuck River which runs into the ocean near the end of Fisher's Island and made his home almost opposite Watch Hill on Long Island where he married a girl whose sister had married a man by the name of Raynor who lived in Suffolk Co. on the east end of Long Island. Because of his wife's religion, which was not of the Seventh Day Baptist faith, James was disowned by the rest of the family. James had quite a large family. His eldest son Samuel Nelson desiring a better education went to Manhattan. His father and the rest of his family removed to Cape May co., N.J. where the exodus of whalers on Long Island had found new fields to explore. After receiving his education Samuel went to Duchess Co., N.Y. and probably had a large family. Soon after, his two older brothers followed him. Samuel had sons Eben, Samuel and James and probably others as there are records of many Crandalls in this locality and Schaghticoke, Rensselaer Co., N.Y. and Cold Springs, Putnam Co., N.Y. which seems to point to the fact that they are the descendants of James. Being dissatisfied in Duchess Co. they after a time migrated to Rochester, N.Y. thence to Canada and finally some of them were in Ann Arbor, Michigan where we have Palmer Crandall and later Tanner Crandall. Many of these Canada Crandalls corresponded with Howard to establish their line with James. Also in the history of Tomkins and Tioga Counties, N.Y. is is an account of the line of a Henry Crandall son of Eber and Dinah (Vaughn), b. 22 Sept. 1795 in Schaghticoke, Rensselaer Co., N.Y.; d. 9 Mar. 1882 in Millport, N.Y.; m. 19 Oct. 1816 in Smithville, N.Y.; Eliza, dau. of Charles Hill of Madison Co., N.Y. Eber Crandall was a native of Cold Spring, Duchess Co., N.Y. having been born there in 1755. His father having lived and died there. His father James was of English ancestry settling on Long Island before the dawn of the 17th century. Eber moved to Argyle, Washington Co., N.Y. when Henry was an infant and after other moves he finally came to Tomkins Co. where he died.

The history of Tomkins Co. establishes without doubt another line from James, son of Eld. John. While some positive connections are missing from dates and locations it is safe to assume that they are in the line of James and they will be found in a later section of the genealogy.

6 PETER CRANDALL of Westerly and Ashaway, R.I. son of Eld. John, was b. abt. 1655 in Westerly and died 1734. He married Mary Babcock, dau. of James Jr. and Jane () Babcock. The records of this family are not clear. The date taken from Arnold's Vit. Records of R.I. contain a mistake, but just what it is and where it is seems impossible to determine at this date. From the records it would appear that Jane____, who first married James Babcock, Jr. later married a Brown; that as the wife of James Babcock, she was the mother of Mary who married Peter Crandall and that as the wife of Mr. Brown, she was the mother of George Brown who married Charity, the dau. of Peter and Mary (Babcock) Crandall. Howard Crandall tried during his lifetime to straighten out the tangle with the result that he wrote:
By the records Mary Babcock and George Brown were half brother and sister; that Charity Crandall was the wife and also the niece of George Brown; that Peter Crandall was brother-in-law to his son-in-law George Brown; that Jane Brown was grandmother and mother-in-law of Charity (Crandall) Brown; that Jane Brown was mother-in-law of Peter Crandall, which would make Mary Babcock, wife of Peter Crandall, his sister-in-law. This would also make Charity marrying her uncle, George Brown. Mr. Crandall finally gave up the problem and no one since his time has been able to solve it.

It would appear that George Brown and Charity (Crandall) Brown had the following children:
George
Peter
John
Elizabeth
Sarah
Ruth
William, who was left by will all his father's Cooper's tools.

Peter Crandall took the oath of allegiance in Westerly 17 May 1679; was a Freeman in 1681; deputy from 1699-1704; Justice of Peace and Lieut. of Militia and was an important man of his time.

Children of Peter and Mary (Babcock) Crandall:
Charity, b. in Ashaway; m. George Brown.
17 Peter; m. 27 Feb. 1717/18 Mary Burdick
18 (Col.) John, m. 1st Mary Crandall; m. 2 19 Apr. 1740, Esther Lewis
Samuel
James (said by Howard Crandall to have had a son Reuben who was father of Rev. Reuben and Palmer. This however, has not been proven.

Hubbard was dau. of Samuel and Tacy Cooper Hubbard. Tacy (Tasy,Tase) Cooper came to Dorchester, Mass. 9 June 1634 from England and was married to Samuel Hubbard when she was 28 yrs. old. (Hist. of Windsor, Conn. from the Literary Diary of Ezra Stiles, Vol. 3 p. 28). Samuel Hubbard came to Salem, Mass. in 1633 and married Tacy Cooper 4 Jan. 1636 at Windsor, Conn. by Mr. Ludlow. They were both in the party that marched through the wilderness from Watertown, Mass. during the terrible winter of 1635 to become the founders of Conn. They were persecuted in Mass. for expressing their Baptist views. Samuel Hubbard finally in 1648 found refuge in R.I. where he was associated with Eld. John Crandall and others in founding the colony of R.I. which stands above all others for its democratic principles.

Rev. Joseph Crandall was an ordained minister of the Seventh Day Baptist Church in Newport, R.I. 8 May 1715.

11. JOHN CRANDALL, of John and Elizabeth (Gorton) Crandall, b. abt. 1673 probably in Kingstown, R.I. There is nothing more in any R.I. records about this John. John, his father, was a blacksmith. We do find records of a John who was a blacksmith and settled in Cape May Co., N.J. We have records to prove that on 25 Mar. 1707 he recorded his earmark and that his son John recorded his earmark 17 May 1725 in the same county. We also find a "John Jr." who was recorded as having 50 acres of land and a household in 1774. In 1768 this John was listed with 6 cattle and horses and 7 sheep. (Gen. Mag. of N.J. Vol. 14.) We have a John whom we assume was of the 7th generation from Eld. John b. in N.J. 1768; d. 20 Oct. 1838; m. Elizabeth ____. He came from N.J. to Brooklyn, Pa. where he died.

To substantiate the assumption that this is a line from John, son of John and Elizabeth (Gorton) the compiler of these records in 1940 stopped overnight at Troy, Pa. and talked with a Miss Sarah Crandle who belongs to the D.A.R. and who said it was a family tradition that he line was Eld. John, John, John. She did not give the 4th, 5th and 6th ancestral lines but named John of the 7th generation, Merrick of the 8th and Andrew of the 9th who was her father. She was born 5 Aug. 1885 and resided in Troy, Pa.

The N.J. Archives Vol. 32 records a John Crandall a blacksmith of Capr. May Co., N.J. whose will was dated 14 Apr. 1730. Inventory dated 20 Oct. 1730. Elizabeth Crandall and William John, both of Cape May Co. were named administrators.

FIRST GENERATION

1. JOHN CRANDALL, Colonial pioneer, First Bapt Elder, Deputy Commissioner, and statesman of port and Westerly, Rhode Island, the head of the ndall family in America, was born in Monmouth-re, England, on the line between England and Wales 1612. His mother is supposed to have been a ch lady. He came to Boston within a very few s after the landing of the Pilgrims, in 1634.
ral writers have ascertained that he was assoc-d with the Congregational Church at Salem as and that "he was certainly living in Providence arly as 1637" and while there are many reasons believing these statements correct and that John dall, as a close associate of Roger Williams was of the founders of Providence, unfortunately it s impossible certainly to confirm them. Many of original Providence records were early destroyed.
The first valid documentary account of John Cranin New England shows him to have been actively ified with the Baptist Church in Newport, July 651. His name next is found, with that of ew West in a Freeman's list of Newport, 1655.
ohn Crandall was the first Baptist Elder at rly, "Elder Crandall was well calculated both lent and sufferings to lead his people in their
. He took an active part in the border ies between Massachusetts and Connecticut ubsequently between Connecticut and Rhode Island, rning the lines between the states."
With other founders of Westerly Mr. Crandall ed on the Misquamicutt land before 1665. He was sioner for a number of years, served as deputy both Newport and Westerly, and in other capacihich evidence that he was a man of importance.

name or origin of his first wife is not known, is recorded that she died in 1670 and was August 2 of that year in Westerly. From ex-on of the birth and marriage records of their n, and the dates at which sons were listed as , it may be inferred that John Crandall was arried about the year 1649. He married, Hannah Gaylord.

rnal of American History" gives the following sketch of the life of Elder John Crandall, which is substantially correct with the probable exception of the account of his activities prior to 1651.

As early as 1635 Rev. John Crandall, who is believed to have been of Welsh ancestry, was living in Salem where, as elsewhere in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, there was at this time much opposition to all dissenters from the authorized tenets of the Puritans. John Crandall was the minister of the Salem church, but he adopted the opinions of the Baptists, which were very obnoxious to the Congregationalists, and in the autumn of 1635 he was dismissed as pastor. As did so many others of the early Baptists of New England he determined to settle in the Narragansett country. The Indians proved friendly and he obtained from them a grant of land. He has been called one of the founders of Providence. He was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637.

In 1669 he appears in "a list of the Free Inhabitants of the Town of Westerle" May the 18, (John Crandall's name headed the list). Directly after this he, with Tobias Saunders, was authorized by the colony to summon juries and hold corts, they being appointed "Conservators of His Majesty's Peace."

John Crandall was one of the original purchasers from Chief Sosoa of Narragansett of the Misquamicutt tribe, of the land comprising Westerly, from which Hopkinton was later formed. The townships of Westerly, Hopkinton, Charleston and Richmond, as they now are, were a tract called by the Indians Misquamicutt and on August 27, 1661 John Crandall was one of the nine signers of a petition to the Court of Commissioners for the Colony of Providence Plantations, in session at Portsmouth, for the purchase of that part of the tract which became Westerly. His house was near Burdens Pond and a part of it now stands, as one room in the homestead occupied by lineal descendants, of the ninth and tenth generations. Across from the house in the old orchard field is the original cemetery, in which twenty seven bodies are buried. There are three rows of graves containing nine bodies each. These rows of graves run parallel with a swamp near by. Elder John is buried in the row nearest the swamp in the end grave to the left as one stands facing the swamp. Next to his grave is that of his son John. Each of the twenty seven graves is indicated by a field stone some 14 inches in width, appearing four to eight inches above the ground set at the head while a smaller stone marks the foot of the grave. There is no inscription on any of the stones. On the 6th day of October 1932 A. Julian Crandall of Ashaway, Rhode Island and Rev. Wm. S. Crandall of Binghamton, New York, standing in the little historical burying ground, agreed that a suitable marker should be placed thereupon. They further concluded that a large native field granite boulder with a bronze plaque properly lettered, embedded in the same would be most suitable. The two third cousins resolved that they would sponser the project. He was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly and held a number of public offices at various times. In 1658, 1659, 1662, 1663 he was a Commissioner, and was a Deputy to the General Court in 1667, 1670 and 1671, representing Westerly during the two latter terms.

He had lived prior to his settlement at Westerly, at Newport.

There was much dispute between the colonies of Massachusetts and Connecticut as to their jurisdictions, and especially as to jurisdiction over grants in Rhode Island, which however, had been confirmed by a royal charter to their purchasers. A claim was made in 1662 by Connecticut of land reaching beyond Misquamicutt to Narragansett Bay. On October 17, 1667 a letter was sent by the Connecticut authorities to those of Rhode Island, complaining that John Crandall had taken possession of about a square mile of land, which he had laid out to his son, on the west side of the Pawcatuck River. On May 14, 1669 he and Joseph Torrey were appointed commissioners for the purpose of conferring with the Connecticut authorities concerning these land disputes. Certain individuals lent thirty five shillings to the Colony of Rhode Island in order to pay the expenses of Mr. Crandall to Connecticut. A few months later, on November 18, the governor and assistants of Connecticut sent a letter complaining that John Crandall and some others had appropriated a large tract of land in the township of Stonington, Connecticut. A reply to this complaint was sent by the Town of Westerly on March 11, 1669, signed by John Crandall and Tobias Saunders, in which all illegal seizure of land or other offense against the Colony of Connecticut was denied, and a counter charge was made; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs that we have sustained by them for many years." In 1671 the dispute grew so serious that Mr. Crandall, with others, were actually carried off by the Connecticut authorities and was imprisoned at Hartford. On May 2 of that year the Rhode Island assembly advised him not to yield to Connecticut's claims and assured him of the Colony's support and that his financial losses would be borne by the Colony.

The Reverend John Crandall was twice married. The name of his first wife is unknown, but she died in 1670 and was buried on August 2 of that year. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

The subjoining summary recorded events in the later life of John Crandall "of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island" is from Austin's Authoritative Volumes "Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island," and "One Hundred and Sixty Allied Families of Rhode Island."

John Crandall was early associated with the Baptists, at Newport, subsequently becoming the first Elder of that denomination at Westerly.

1651, July 21. He, with John Clarke and Obediah Holmes, "being the representatives of the Church of Newport, upon the request of William Witter, of Lynn, arrived there, he being a brother in the Church, who by reason of his advanced age, could not undertake so great a journey as to visit the church. William Witter lived about two miles out of Lynn and the next day being Sunday, they spent in religious services at his house, and were there apprehended by two constables at the instance of the Massachusetts authorities, while Mr. Clarke was preaching, and the next morning they were sent to prison in Boston. For the dire offense of holding this little meeting, and on other frivolous pretexts Obediah Holmes was fined, imprisoned and whipped.

1651, July 31. He was sentenced to pay a fine of L5 or be publically whipped. He was released from prison upon his promise of appearing at next court.

1658; 59; 62; 63 Commissioner.

1661, August 27, he and eight others signed a letter of the Court of Commissioners of Rhode Island, concerning a tract of land at Westerly, that they and others desired approbation and assistance of Rhode Island in settling upon.

1661, September 9. He had half a share at Westerly assigned him.

1667, Deputy.

1667, October 17, Westerly. He was complained of in a letter from Connecticut to Rhode Island authorities, for having come on west side of Pawcatuck River and laid out about a mile square of land to his son.

1669, May 14. He and Joseph Torrey were appointed Commissioners to treat with Connecticut relative to jurisdiction of lands. The sum of 35 shillings was lent to the Colony of Rhode Island by individuals for John Crandall's voyage to Connecticut.

1669, May 18. His name was on the List of Inhabitants. (Westerly)

1669, November 18. A letter was sent him by Governor and Assistants, of Connecticut, complaining that he and others had appropriated a great parcel of Stonington township, and seeking for satisfaction.

1669, March 11. He and Tobias Saunders answered on behalf of Westerly denying any guilt in matter complained of; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs we have sustained by them several years." The letter closes: "As for your advice to agree with those, our neighbors of Stonington and the other gentlemen we hope that your colony and ours, will in the first place lovingly agree, and then we question not but that there will be an agreement between us and our neighbors of Stonington, and the rest of the gentlemen."

1670, June 19. He as Conservator of the Peace of Westerly, wrote a letter a little prior to this date, to the Governor of Rhode Island, informing him "of an entrance made into our jurisdiction by some of Connecticut, and of their carrying away some inhabitants prisoners."

1670, August 2. His first wife was buried.

1670, October 3. He deeded eldest son, John of Newport, "for love &c., all my goods, chattels, debts, household utensils, and all other personal estate, movable or immovable quick or dead-- putting him in

6 PETER CRANDALL of Westerly and Ashaway, R.I. son of Eld. John, was b. abt. 1655 in Westerly and died 1734. He married Mary Babcock, dau. of James Jr. and Jane () Babcock. The records of this family are not clear. The data taken from Arnold's Vit. Records of R.I. contain a mistake, but just what it is and where it is seems impossible to determine at this date. From the records it would appear that Jane____, who first married James Babcock, Jr. later married a Brown; that as the wife of James Babcock, she was the mother of Mary who married Peter Crandall and that as the wife of Mr. Brown, she was the mother of George Brown who married Charity, the dau. of Peter and Mary (Babcock) Crandall. Howard Crandall tried during his lifetime to straighten out the tangle with the result that he wrote:
By the records Mary Babcock and George Brown were half brother and sister; that Charity Crandall was the wife and also the niece of George Brown; that Peter Crandall was brother-in-law to his son-in-law George Brown; that Jane Brown was grandmother and mother-in-law of Charity (Crandall) Brown; that Jane Brown was mother-in-law of Peter Crandall, which would make Mary Babcock, wife of Peter Crandall, his sister-in-law. This would also make Charity marrying her uncle, George Brown. Mr. Crandall finally gave up the problem and no one since his time has been able to solve it.

It would appear that George Brown and Charity (Crandall) Brown had the following children:
George
Peter
John
Elizabeth
Sarah
Ruth
William, who was left by will all his father's Cooper's tools.

Peter Crandall took the oath of allegiance in Westerly 17 May 1679; was a Freeman in 1681; deputy from 1699-1704; Justice of Peace and Lieut. of Militia and was an important man of his time.

Children of Peter and Mary (Babcock) Crandall:
Charity, b. in Ashaway; m. George Brown.
17 Peter; m. 27 Feb. 1717/18 Mary Burdick
18 (Col.) John, m. 1st Mary Crandall; m. 2 19 Apr. 1740, Esther Lewis
Samuel
James (said by Howard Crandall to have had a son Reuben who was father of Rev. Reuben and Palmer. This however, has not been proven.

16 SAMUEL NELSON CRANDALL, son of James, b. abt. 1685 prob. on Long Island. He desired a better education and went to Manhatten, N.Y. and from there to Cold Spring, Dutchess Co., N.Y. (There is also a Cold Spring in Putnam Co., N.Y.) It is assumed that he later went to Schaghticoke, Rensselaer Co., N.Y. This is where this line was residing as referred to in the Hist. of Thomkins Co. The name of his son was omitted from the history, but it is assumed that it was Amos Wilson. From this point the line appears to be clear according to the History of Thomkins Co.

FIRST GENERATION

1. JOHN CRANDALL, Colonial pioneer, First Baptist Elder, Deputy Commissioner, and statesman of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island, the head of the Crandall family in America, was born in Monmouthshire, England, on the line between England and Wales in 1612. His mother is supposed to have been a Scotch lady. He came to Boston within a very few years after the landing of the Pilgrims, in 1634. Several writers have ascertained that he was associated with the Congregational Church at Salem as 1635 and that "he was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637" and while there are many reasons for believing these statements correct and that John Crandall, as a close associate of Roger Williams was one of the founders of Providence, unfortunately it seems impossible certainly to confirm them. Many of the original Providence records were early destroyed.

The first valid documentary account of John Crandall in New England shows him to have been actively identified with the Baptist Church in Newport, July 21, 1651. His name next is found, with that of Matthew West in a Freeman's list of Newport, 1655.

John Crandall was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly, "Elder Crandall was well calculated both by talent and sufferings to lead his people in their devotions. He took an active part in the border difficulties between Massachusetts and Connecticut and subsequently between Connecticut and Rhode Island, concerning the lines between the states."

"With other founders of Westerly Mr. Crandall settled on the Misquamicutt land before 1665. He was commissioner for a number of years, served as deputy from both Newport and Westerly, and in other capacities which evidence that he was a man of importance. Through the seven sons of Elder Crandall the name became a common one and the family numerous in Rhode Island." (From "Representative men and old families of Rhode Island.)

Through the marriage of Elder John Crandall's sons and daughters, the family became allied with other important pioneer families who were prominent in the early history of Rhode Island, and New England. Among these were the Gorton, Babcock, Burdick, Hubbard, and Witter families.

The name or origin of his first wife is not known, but it is recorded that she died in 1670 and was buried August 2 of that year in Westerly. From examination of the birth and marriage records of their children, and the dates at which sons were listed as freemen, it may be inferred that John Crandall was first married about the year 1649. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

Elder John Crandall died before November 29, 1676 at Newport where he was sojourning on account of the Indian War (King Philip's War).

The "Journal of American History" gives the following sketch of the life of Elder John Crandall, which is substantially correct with the probable exception of the account of his activities prior to 1651.

As early as 1635 Rev. John Crandall, who is believed to have been of Welsh ancestry, was living in Salem where, as elsewhere in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, there was at this time much opposition to all dissenters from the authorized tenets of the Puritans. John Crandall was the minister of the Salem church, but he adopted the opinions of the Baptists, which were very obnoxious to the Congregationalists, and in the autumn of 1635 he was dismissed as pastor. As did so many others of the early Baptists of New England he determined to settle in the Narragansett country. The Indians proved friendly and he obtained from them a grant of land. He has been called one of the founders of Providence. He was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637.

In 1669 he appears in "a list of the Free Inhabitants of the Town of Westerle" May the 18, (John Crandall's name headed the list). Directly after this he, with Tobias Saunders, was authorized by the colony to summon juries and hold corts, they being appointed "Conservators of His Majesty's Peace."

John Crandall was one of the original purchasers from Chief Sosoa of Narragansett of the Misquamicutt tribe, of the land comprising Westerly, from which Hopkinton was later formed. The townships of Westerly, Hopkinton, Charlestown and Richmond, as they now are, were a tract called by the Indians Misquamicutt and on August 27, 1661 John Crandall was one of the nine signers of a petition to the Court of Commissioners for the Colony of Providence Plantations, in session at Portsmouth, for the purchase of that part of the tract which became Westerly. His house was near Burdens Pond and a part of it now stands, as one room in the homestead occupied by lineal descendants, of the ninth and tenth generations. Across from the house in the old orchard field is the original cemetery, in which twenty seven bodies are buried. There are three rows of graves containing nine bodies each. These rows of graves run parallel with a swamp near by. Elder John is buried in the row nearest the swamp in the end grave to the left as one stands facing the swamp. Next to his grave is that of his son John. Each of the twenty seven graves is indicated by a field stone some 14 inches in width, appearing four to eight inches above the ground set at the head while a smaller stone marks the foot of the grave. There is no inscription on any of the stones. On the 6th day of October 1932 A. Julian Crandall of Ashaway, Rhode Island and Rev. Wm. S. Crandall of Binghamton, New York, standing in the little historical burying ground, agreed that a suitable marker should be placed thereupon. They further concluded

Ruth Hubbard was dau. of Samuel and Tacy Cooper Hubbard. Tacy (Tasy, Tase) Cooper came to Dorchester, Mass. 9 June 1634 from England and was married to Samuel Hubbard when she was 28 yrs. old. (Hist. of Windsor, Conn. from the Literary Diary of Ezra Stiles, Vol. 3 p. 28). Samuel Hubbard came to Salem, Mass. in 1633 and married Tacy Cooper 4 Jan. 1636 at Windsor, Conn. by Mr. Ludlow. They were both in the party that marched through the wilderness from Watertown, Mass. during the terrible winter of 1635 to become the founders of Conn. They were persecuted in Mass. for expressing their Baptist views. Samuel Hubbard finally in 1648 found refuge in R.I. where he was associated with Eld. John Crandall and others in founding the colony of R.I. which stands above all others for its democratic principles.

that a large native field granite boulder with a bronze plaque properly lettered, embedded in the same would be most suitable. The two third cousins resolved that they would sponser the project. He was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly and held a number of public offices at various times. In 1658, 1659, 1662, 1663 he was a Commissioner, and was a Deputy to the General Court in 1667, 1670 and 1671, representing Westerly during the two latter terms.

He had lived prior to his settlement at Westerly, at Newport.

There was much dispute between the colonies of Massachusetts and Connecticut as to their jurisdictions, and especially as to jurisdiction over grants in Rhode Island, which however, had been confirmed by a royal charter to their purchasers. A claim was made in 1662 by Connecticut of land reaching beyond Misquamicutt to Narragansett Bay. On October 17, 1667 a letter was sent by the Connecticut authorities to those of Rhode Island, complaining that John Crandall had taken possession of about a square mile of land, which he had laid out to his son, on the west side of the Pawcatuck River. On May 14, 1669 he and Joseph Torrey were appointed commissioners for the purpose of conferring with the Connecticut authorities concerning these land disputes. Certain individuals lent thirty five shillings to the Colony of Rhode Island in order to pay the expenses of Mr. Crandall to Connecticut. A few months later, on November 18, the governor and assistants of Connecticut sent a letter complaining that John Crandall and some others had appropriated a large tract of land in the township of Stonington, Connecticut. A reply to this complaint was sent by the Town of Westerly on March 11, 1669, signed by John Crandall and Tobias Saunders, in which all illegal seizure of land or other offense against the Colony of Connecticut was denied, and a counter charge was made; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs that we have sustained by them for many years." In 1671 the dispute grew so serious that Mr. Crandall, with others, were actually carried off by the Connecticut authorities and was imprisoned at Hartford. On May 2 of that year the Rhode Island assembly advised him not to yield to Connecticut's claims and assured him of the Colony's support and that his financial losses would be borne by the Colony.

The Reverend John Crandall was twice married. The name of his first wife is unknown, but she died in 1670 and was buried on August 2 of that year. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

The subjoining summary recorded events in the later life of John Crandall "of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island" is from Austin's Authoritative Volumes "Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island," and "One Hundred and Sixty Allied Families of Rhode Island."

John Crandall was early associated with the Baptists, at Newport, subsequently becoming the first Elder of that denomination at Westerly.

1651, July 21. He, with John Clarke and Obediah Holmes, "being the representatives of the Church of Newport, upon the request of William Witter, of Lynn, arrived there, he being a brother in the Church, who by reason of his advanced age, could not undertake so great a journey as to visit the church. William Witter lived about two miles out of Lynn and the next day being Sunday, they spent in religious services at his house, and were there apprehended by two constables at the instance of the Massachusetts authorities, while Mr. Clarke was preaching, and the next morning they were sent to prison in Boston. For the dire offense of holding this little meeting, and on other frivolous pretexts Obediah Holmes was fined, imprisoned and whipped.

1651, July 31. He was sentenced to pay a fine of L5 or be publically whipped. He was released from prison upon his promise of appearing at next court.

1658; 59; 62; 63 Commissioner.

1661, August 27, he and eight others signed a letter of the Court of Commissioners of Rhode Island, concerning a tract of land at Westerly, that they and others desired approbation and assistance of Rhode Island in settling upon.

1661, September 9. He had half a share at Westerly assigned him.

1669, May 18. His name was on the List of Inhabitants. (Westerly)

1669, November 18. A letter was sent him by Governor and Assistants, of Connecticut, complaining that he and others had appropriated a great parcel of Stonington township, and seeking for satisfaction.

1669, March 11. He and Tobias Saunders answered on behalf of Westerly denying any guilt in matter complained of; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs we have sustained by them several years." The letter closes: "As for your advice to agree with those, our neighbors of Stonington and the other gentlemen we hope that your colony and ours, will in the first place lovingly agree, and then we question not but that there will be an agreement between us and our neighbors of Stonington, and the rest of the gentlemen."

1670, June 19. He as Conservator of the Peace of Westerly, wrote a letter a little prior to this date, to the Governor of Rhode Island, informing him "of an entrance made into our jurisdiction by some of Connecticut, and of their carrying away some inhabitants prisoners."

1670, August 2. His first wife was buried.

Crandall Etymology.

The Crandall name seems to have a number of meanings,the first and most probable is said to come from Crane Dale,meaning a lake or swampy section where Cranes congregate,hence the Cranes on the coat-of-arms(the compiler's version). It is said that at one time the name was spelled Crann Dell,which meant Iron Dell. It is further claimed that the meaning is as follows:Crans,equals woods,Dal,equals vale or dale.

The name has several spellings to wit:Crandal, Crandale,Crandall,Crandel,Crandell,Crandle and Crandol.

Thomas Eugene Crandall,son of Fred Warren,a good authority on sources,of Santa Cruz,Calif. states,quote; "all present day bearers of the surname Crandall in its uncorrupted form,or variants,formed with the prefix Cran but terminating Dell,Dle or Dal,are believed to be descendants of Elder John Crandall,the Rhode Island founder the only English born Crandall known to have perpetuated his name and blood to this day."

NOTE: The compiler differs widely from the above statement of Thomas Eugene Crandall,first that he was born Welch instead of English,second the name Cran according to Burke's "General Armory" and "Encyclopedia of Heraldry" is distinctly a Welsh name and that Crandall is a modification of the name Cran.

Our authority further adds that,"The Crandall family is distinctly Anglo-Saxon in origin and name. The earliest known bearers of the name lived in a seacoast section of Monmouthshire,England,near the north shore of the English Channel,close to the Welsh border". Because of the border location of Monmouthshire and because of certain adminstrative contacts, it was frequently included with Wales. In as much as there were more Welsh than English in the country,it came to be understood that the Crandall family was Welsh.Thomas Eugene in his exhaustive research and writings explodes the Welsh origin theory and concludes his thesis with the succeeding reference:"Mr.Ernest Weekley,a celebrated English Etymologist,in a letter to the author regarding the disputed origin and history of the surname Crandall,stated:"I agree with you that the Welsh etymology is unlikely.It was probably suggested by the proximity of Chepstow--the vicinity where Crandalls are known to have lived --in Wales. "

NOTE;- Our good cousin Thomas Eugene(now deceased) seems to have favored the theory that the Crandalls were English and to this end has offered some weak arguments,however according to his "celebrated english etymologist" Mr.Weekly,in his last statement,That ," It was probably suggested by the proximity of Chipstow the vicinity where Crandalls are known to have lived in Wales" to me is positive proof that the Crandalls were Welchmen and not Englishmen.

The Rhode Island Charter.

From the writings of Bruce Verne Crandall of Three Lakes, Wisc.,who was exceptionally well versed in Baptist history,we have taken the following,"I am quoting from a lecture by Rev.Walter E.Tanner,D.D., pastor of a Baptist Church in Springfield, Mo. Dr. Tanner's lecture was on Baptist History and any reference which he made to John Crandall was only incidental to his main theme. As he gave the sources of his information.even down to volumes and page numbers,I regard what he gives as undoubted accuracy.

He said,that,"John Clarke,John Crandall,Obediah Holmes and Roger Williams went to England in the year 1663,and obtained from King Charles the second,a charter,which secured the Colony of Rhode Island as a free State,where there was a guarantee,forever,from the King and all his successors,that all the inhabitants of Rhode Island Colony should be given political and Religious Freedom,no matter what country they came from. NOTE: This origional charter can be found in th Rhode Island Historical Library. This data also can be verified by and through Callander's History of Rhode Island,and from Colonial Records,found at Newport. The charter was signed July 8,1663.

" The colonies of Rhode Island and Pennsylvania--The one founded by the Baptists and the other by the Quakers--were the only two colonies that guaranteed absolute liberty. And it was the Constitution of the Colonies,especially the one in Rhode Island,and its democratic manner of handling public affairs,that is declared by Thomas Jefferson to be the leven of Liberty and Democracy of the American Constitution.(see Memoirs of Thomas Jefferson). "

"It is interesting on this account,that with the growth of Democracy came the struggle for Liberty and Independence in the Revolutionary War,and that the Colony of Rhode Island and the men who started it, namely:Obediah Holmes,John Clark,John Crandall and Roger Williams should really be looked upon as the first pioneers of Religious and Political Freedom in America".

Appendix 111.

WESTERLY (PAWCATUCK VILLAGE).

It would be difficult to round out the Crandall story into completion without a specific reference to the Town of Westerly.

Great will be the thrill and satisfaction coming to a Crandall offspring who may be privileged to visit Westerly and vicinity. In addition to spending plenty of time in this charming spot,contacting its churches, its unusual library,meeting distant cousins and imbibing the atmosphere of this historic New England village,one should go out to the old Homstead,see the ancient house,go to the site of the origional orchard and stand near the twenty-seven pioneer graves with their primitive stone markers,.Westerly belongs to us.

In a very readable and informative Rhode Island Tercentenary volume,bearing the caption,"The Town That Saved a State--Westerly",we find that Mary A.Best,the author,features John Crandall as playing no small part in those decisive days.

Westerly was the frontier town of the colony. With Massachussetts and Connecticut laying claim to the land as their own,and repeatedly doing their utmos to possess the same,The course of history was to be c directly determined by the attitude of a few brave, God-Fearing zealots of the settlement.

We quote Miss Best: "In 1669 when Westerly was incorporated thirty families were scattered over the ten by twenty mile tract."

"Relying on the charter(see appendix 11) the settlers hoped to live among the Red Men in peace. They soon found they had a stiff fight ahead,with white neighbors to keep the land they had bought and cleared..... Reverend John Crandall and Tobias Saunders were appointed'Conservators of His Majesty's Peace',a job that was no sinecure. Hardly had the settlers taken shelter in their dugouts and cabins when the long fight to oust them began. Saunders and Crandall found it necessary to use clubs to adjust some differences of opinion with the neighbors across the river."

As other references in our introduction bear evidence,these men and their Westerly compatriots were again and again subjected to suffering,abuse,imprisonment and loss,as they unflinchingly lived,to defend and preserve their little colony,regardless of the enormity of the would-be invaders. John Clark and Roger Williams,in pleading their cause before King Charles,said,"They have it in their hearts,if they may be permitted,to hold forth a lively experiment ,that a flourishing colony may stand,yea best may be maintained,and that among English spirits,with a full liberty in religous concernments".

Not until 1728 was the boundary question settled by an agreement signed at Westerly the colony got what she had claimed from the begining;that for which her unyielding men and women had prayed and contended even unto blood.

Yes,Westerly,made up of God-fearing,liberty-loving folks--many of whom were our kinsmen--saved a colony,yea,a state,and as Bruce V.Crandall puts it, "A Nation".

HISTORY MAKING ORGANIZATIONS.

The following excerpts were taken from an article appearing in a New York City paper in the early nineties:The Crandall Genealogical Association,organized last night at the Astor House ,purpose to engage a genealogical expert,who will trace back their common ancestry as far as Colonial times,at least.

" I am the man who invented the typewriter girl." Proudly said Lucien Stephen Crandall in Parlor H. Astor House, last night.' You have a great deal to answer for',chorused John Albert Crandall,Ernest Lindell Crandall,Harrie Melvin Crandall,Henry Sargent Crandall,Chauncey W.Crandall,John Courtland Crandall, Jesse Armour Crandall,Bradford Francis Crandall,Edwin Joel Crandall,William Franklin Crandall,Henry Vaughn Crandall,Henry Lewis Crandall,Frederick H.Way and Rev.Charles E.Freeman,the last two married Crandall girls. "The world has a great deal to thank me for 'retorted Lucien Stephen Crandall" I invented the typewriter machine and in 1874 I first employed a young woman to write on my typewriter. If when I die each typewriter girl contributes a penny I'll have a monument as tall as the Statue of Liberty.

An illustrious Crandall,Joseph, founded Utica, N.Y.in 1704. Loving mothers and Brooklyn fathers should keep green the memory of Benjamin P.Crandall, first of the family in New York City. He invented the baby carriage.

John Courtland Crandall of 495 Cortland Ave., New York,organized the idea of the Genealogical Association. Lucien Stephen Crandall,the president, not only invented the blessed and beautiful typewriter girl but has eighty-three other inventions to his credit."

The John Crandall Society was organized at Venice,Florida,March 25,1939. The organization was first suggested by Bruce V.Crandall to John C.Crandall during the summer of 1938. These two members of the Crandall clan agreed to meet at Venice,Fla.at the time of the convention of the descendants of First Families of America,then being organized by Bruce V. Crandall.

At the organization meeting were present, A. Julian Crandall,Ashaway, R.I.,Mr.and Mrs.Orra S. Rogers,Plainfield, N.J.,John C.Crandall,New Woodstock, N.Y.,Mary Elysabeth Crandall,Three Lakes, Wisc., and Bruce Verne Crandall,Three Lakes, Wisc.

Bruce V. called the meeting to order and explained his thought that the Crandall family should have an organization as the best means of getting together genealogical and historical data and making permanent and safe records of them. He then suggested that John C.Crandall be made president of the organization and that Mary Elysabeth Crandall be made its secetary and that the organization be given the name of "The John Crandall Society" in honor of the pioneer ancestor of all the Crandalls in America. All present were in entire agreement. NOTE; The foregoing data of the 1939 organization was furnished by Mary Elysabeth Crandall. This organization,together with its corresponding members has played an important part in bringing about the publishing of the Crandall Recital.

Appendix V.

SAMUEL HUBBARD.

Dr.William Franklin Langworthy in his splendidly compiled'Langworthy Genealogy',gives nearly four pages in featuring Samuel Hubbard.

It seems proper that a few lines should appear here relative to this man and his ancestral connection with many of the Crandalls especially descendants of Rev.Joseph and Deborah(Burdick)Crandall. Samuel was born in Mendolsham,Suffolk,Eng.in 1610. He was the son of James Hubbard who married Naomi Cocke of Ipswich. According to Foxes 'Book of Martyrs' Vol. 3,page 704 --which record Samuel referred to as fact Thomas Hubbard father of James (listed as Thomas Higbee) was burned at the stake during the reign of Queen(Bloody)Mary in 1555.

Samuel Hubbard arrived at Salem in October 1633 He located at Watertown. In 1635 he was among the sixty daring colonists,who,braving the terrible winter,marched through the wilderness to be numbered among the first settlers of Connecticut. Tase(Tacy) Cooper,born in 1608 in England,of noble parentage, was in the party,she and Samuel were married during the winter of 1636. They later moved to Springfield Mass. where three daughters,Ruth,Rachel and Berthia were born. Ruth the first white child to be born in Springfield married Robert Burdick,by which union she became the mother of all the Burdicks. Rachel married Andrew Langworthy and thereby became the mother of all the American Langworthys. Deborah Burdick,Dau. of Robert and Ruth, married Rev. Joseph Crandall, son of lder John. To this marriage was born Joseph who married his second cousin Ann Langworthy, Dau. of Andrew and Rachel Langworthy. According to Dr. Langworthy, Samuel Hubbard was a very important man, especially in the religious history of Rhode Island.

He and six othere, one his wife, and one his Dau. Rachel Langworthy, founded the Seventh Day Baptist Church, Dec. 23, 2671

CRANDALL LINE BACK TO ADAM AND EVE.

Only the most daring would undertake such a compilation. Again, as in appendix 11, we turn to the writings of Bruce Verne Crandall for the following expose of Adamic-Crandall generations. He in turn gave credit to Mrs. Ina O. Perrin of Velva, S.D. and later of 619 So. Central Ave., Lodi, Calif. and a cousin of hers--both Crandalls--each of whom spent many years in collecting the data.

It was a tradition in Mrs. Perrin's home that she was descended from Princess Elizabeth. We quote Bruce: " There seems to be no reason to doubt the correctness of the line back of Elizabeth Drake, the mother of Elder John Crandall, for the Drake family history is well known". He further states, "The King lines are well known and part of this record has a historical accuracy". Some of his listings are taken from 'Know your cestors' by Mrs. Spiller Kelley. He quotes Mrs. Kelley hus: "Matthew in his first chapter gives the line back 4,000 years., could not their descendants keep theirs up to the present day?. Further, "Rulers of Monarchies must keep their lines of descent in order to prove their Royalty and right to rule. The Irish and the Welsh depended upon their wisest men to keep their records.

Adam(B.C.4004). He died 3074 Gen.5:5.

Compiler's Note;-"I regret that after the death in August 1948 of Rev. Oscar Frank Stetson, to whom I had sent the Adam and Eve line to be included in the book, fourteen pages and 143 generations back from Eld. John Crandall, were never recovered. However I include here the line back to King Malcom 11(1005-1034) and if interested to trace back to Adam one can find the connection in the pamphlet 'The Book of Adam' by Harold King Bowen, 428 Vista Ave., Pasadena.8, Calif. "

1. Malcom 11, maternal grand father of Malcom 111, Malcom was the name of four Scottish Kings, Malcom 1 and Malcom 11 are shadowy and unimportant personages.

2. Crinon or Cranon, lay abbot of dunkeld ,was father of Duncon 1. who is remembered because of Shakespere's Macbeth.

3. Duncan 1,

Malcom 111, King of Scotland married Margaret or arguerite. Dau. of English prince Edward, son of Edward Ironsides.

5. Editha Matilda married Henry 1, king of England and son of William the conquoror. Ency. Brit. gives dates.

6. Maude, Dau. of Henry 1, married Goeffry Plantagent, (1113-1151) and count of Angon(Ency Brit. states that he married Matilda not Maude Dau. of Henry 1. no record of a son John, but they had three sons, Henry Plantagent Goeffrey and William long sword.

7. John, king of England, the son of Maude and Goeffrey the only John of that date was John of Lackland(1167-1216) the youngest son of Henry 11.

8. Henry 111, (1207-1272) son of John.

9. Edward 1, oldest son of Henry 111born June 17,1239 died 1307 his mother Eleanor of Provence.

16. Sir William Greenville, Knt, married Lady Phillipa Dau. of Sir William Bobville Knight of Garter.

17. Sir Thomas Greenville of Stowe married Elizabeth Dau. of Sir Otis Gilbert of Compton Devon(Little Compton, R.I. perhaps name taken fron it)

18. Sir Roger Greenville of Stowe married Margaret, Dau. of Richard Whilleigh of Effon Devon.

19. Amy Greenville married John Drake of Asche.

20. Robert Drake married 1st. Elizabeth Prideaux, 2nd. Editha Hatch.

21. Elizabeth Drake married Sir John Crandall.

22. Elder John Crandall, their son, of Rhode Island.
    It is claimed they disowned Eld. John because he left the English church and became a Baptist.

The question is-was there a Sir John Crandall in Shropshire, England about 1600-1650. it seems possible that there should be records that could be located.

In "Newmans History of the Baptists page 111" states that Dr. John Clark was born in Suffolk Co. and he and his two brothers, Thomas and Joseph were closely associated with Elder John Crandall in the church of the R.I. Baptists. It is claimed that Elder John Crandall came over from Shropshire County with Joseph Clark. It has also been said that Eld. John was a Scotchman.

John Crandall's will was dated 9 Feb. 1793, proved 14 Mar. 1796 and mentions wife Rebecca, son Eber, Henry Thorn, his wife's grandson, and granddaughter, Rhoda Lewis.

that Elder John Crandall was a Welchman. One good authority states that he died 29 Nov. 1676 at the age of 67 yrs. which would indicate that he was born in 1609 and judging from the known ages of some of his associates, this would seem probable. His first wife by whom he had 7 children has not been positively identified but record shows that she died 1 Aug. 1670. (Mildred Small of Etna, Pa. states she found in the records in Washington, D.C. that the first wife of Elder John was Mary Opp who died 20 Aug. 1669) Elder John married second, Hannah Gaylord, b. 30 Jan. 1647; d. 3 Aug. 1678. After the death of Eld. John his widow married, second, John Cottrell, Jr. Hannah Gaylord was the dau. of William (William, John Nicholas) and Ann (Porter) Gaylord.

quiet and peaceable possession by payment of 1s in silver, by his son."

1670, 1671. Deputy from Westerly.

1671, January 30. Bills were allowed by Assembly, for hire of a boat to go to Narragansett with Mr. John Crandall Sr. in the year 1670 and for hire of Sarah Reape's horse for use of Mr. John Crandall to go to Hartford.

1671, May 2. He, having been "as is asserted" apprehended and now is in durance, by the Colony of Connecticut and having desired the advice of the Governor &c. of Rhode Island whether to give bond or abide imprisonment, the Colony will bear his charges and endeavor to justify his actings therein.

1671, May 6. He was allowed 20 shillings, to bear his charge to Connecticut.

1675, January 23. In a letter from Ruth Burdick, to her father Samuel Hubbard, of Newport, she says, "Brother Crandall hath the ague and fever still, and have been but little amongst us this winter, Sister Crandall is brought to bed with a son, and is in a hopeful way." (Ruth Burdick's daughter Deborah (Samuel Hubbard's granddaughter) later married Elder John Crandall's son (by his first wife) Joseph.

He died in Newport, having moved there on account of the Indian War.

1676, November 29. Under this date Samuel Hubbard, writes from Newport to Mr. Edward Stennitt in London, and after speaking of the devastation caused by King Philip's War, he recounts the recent deaths in the First Baptist Church. He says: "of the old' church, First Mr. Joseph Torrey, then my dear brother John Crandall, then Mr. John Clarke, then William Weeden, a deacon, then John Salmon; a sad stroke in very deed, young men and maids to this day I never knew or heard the like in New England." Samuel Hubbard also wrote a few years later; "my dear brother John Crandall of Squamicut, is dead and his first wife, a Sabbath keeper, the first that died in that blessed faith in New England."

His second wife was Hannah Gaylord, born 30 Jan. 1647, and probably was daughter of William and Ann (Porter) Gaylord, of Windsor, Connecticut. The said Hannah married a Crandall as is shown by the settlement of her brother Hezekiah Gaylord's estate in 1677. Elder John Crandall died at Newport November 29, 1676. From the compiler the following data of Elder John has been furnished: That he was born probably Shropshire, England near the Welch border. The western portion of this county was formerly a part of Wales and later annexed to England. Hence the reason why some authorities have made the assertion that Elder John Crandall was a Welchman. One good authority states that he died 29 Nov. 1676 at the age of 67 yrs. which would indicate that he was born in 1609 and judging from the known ages of some of his associates, this would seem probable. His first wife by whom he had 7 children has not been positively identified but record shows that she died 1 Aug. 1670. (Mildred Small of Etna, Pa. states she found in the records in Washington, D.C. that the first wife of Elder John was Mary Opp who died 20 Aug. 1669) Elder John married second, Hannah Gaylord, b. 30 Jan. 1647; d. 3 Aug. 1678. FIRST GENERATION

1. JOHN CRANDALL, Colonial pioneer, First Baptist Elder, Deputy Commissioner, and statesman of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island, the head of the Crandall family in America, was born in Monmouthshire, England, on the line between England and Wales in 1612. His mother is supposed to have been a Scotch lady. He came to Boston within a very few years after the landing of the Pilgrims, in 1634. Several writers have ascertained that he was associated with the Congregational Church at Salem as 1635 and that "he was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637" and while there are many reasons for believing these statements correct and that John Crandall, as a close associate of Roger Williams was one of the founders of Providence, unfortunately it seems impossible certainly to confirm them. Many of the original Providence records were early destroyed.

The first valid documentary account of John Crandall in New England shows him to have been actively identified with the Baptist Church in Newport, July 21, 1651. His name next is found, with that of Matthew West in a Freeman's list of Newport, 1655.

John Crandall was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly, "Elder Crandall was well calculated both by talent and sufferings to lead his people in their devotions. He took an active part in the border difficulties between Massachusetts and Connecticut and subsequently between Connecticut and Rhode Island, concerning the lines between the states."

"With other founders of Westerly Mr. Crandall settled on the Misquamicutt land before 1665. He was commissioner for a number of years, served as deputy from both Newport and Westerly, and in other capacities which evidence that he was a man of importance. Through the seven sons of Elder Crandall the name became a common one and the family numerous in Rhode Island." (From "Representative men and old families of Rhode Island.)

Through the marriage of Elder John Crandall's sons and daughters, the family became allied with other important pioneer families who were prominent in the early history of Rhode Island, and New England. Among these were the Gorton, Babcock, Burdick, Hubbard, and Witter families.

The name or origin of his first wife is not known, but it is recorded that she died in 1670 and was buried August 2 of that year in Westerly. From examination of the birth and marriage records of their children, and the dates at which sons were listed as freemen, it may be inferred that John Crandall was first married about the year 1649. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

Elder John Crandall died before November 29, 1676 at Newport where he was sojourning on account of the Indian War (King Philip's War).

The "Journal of American History" gives the following sketch of the life of Elder John Crandall, which is substantially correct with the probable exception of the account of his activities prior to 1651.

As early as 1635 Rev. John Crandall, who is believed to have been of Welsh ancestry, was living in Salem where, as elsewhere in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, there was at this time much opposition to all dissenters from the authorized tenets of the Puritans. John Crandall was the minister of the Salem church, but he adopted the opinions of the Baptists, which were very obnoxious to the Congregationalists, and in the autumn of 1635 he was dismissed as pastor. As did so many others of the early Baptists of New England he determined to settle in the Narragansett country. The Indians proved friendly and he obtained from them a grant of land. He has been called one of the founders of Providence. He was certainly living in Providence as early as 1637.

In 1669 he appears in "a list of the Free Inhabitants of the Town of Westerle" May the 18, (John Crandall's name headed the list). Directly after this he, with Tobias Saunders, was authorized by the colony to summon juries and hold corts, they being appointed "Conservators of His Majesty's Peace."

John Crandall was one of the original purchasers from Chief Sosoa of Narragansett of the Misquamicutt tribe, of the land comprising Westerly, from which Hopkinton was later formed. The townships of Westerly, Hopkinton, Charleston and Richmond, as they now are, were a tract called by the Indians Misquamicutt and on August 27, 1661 John Crandall was one of the nine signers of a petition to the Court of Commissioners for the Colony of Providence Plantations, in session at Portsmouth, for the purchase of that part of the tract which became Westerly. His house was near Burdens Pond and a part of it now stands, as one room in the homestead occupied by lineal descendants, of the ninth and tenth generations. Across from the house in the old orchard field is the original cemetery, in which twenty seven bodies are buried. There are three rows of graves containing nine bodies each. These rows of graves run parallel with a swamp near by. Elder John is buried in the row nearest the swamp in the end grave to the left as one stands facing the swamp. Next to his grave is that of his son John. Each of the twenty seven graves is indicated by a field stone some 14 inches in width, appearing four to eight inches above the ground set at the head while a smaller stone marks the foot of the grave. There is no inscription on any of the stones. On the 6th day of October 1932 A. Julian Crandall of Ashaway, Rhode Island and Rev. Wm. S. Crandall of Binghamton, New York, standing in the little historical burying ground, agreed that a suitable marker should be placed thereupon. They further concluded that a large native field granite boulder with a bronze plaque properly lettered, embedded in the same would be most suitable. The two third cousins resolved that they would sponser the project. He was the first Baptist Elder at Westerly and held a number of public offices at various times. In 1658, 1659, 1662, 1663 he was a Commissioner, and was a Deputy to the General Court in 1667, 1670 and 1671, representing Westerly during the two latter terms.

He had lived prior to his settlement at Westerly, at Newport.

There was much dispute between the colonies of Massachusetts and Connecticut as to their jurisdictions, and especially as to jurisdiction over grants in Rhode Island, which however, had been confirmed by a royal charter to their purchasers. A claim was made in 1662 by Connecticut of land reaching beyond Misquamicutt to Narragansett Bay. On October 17, 1667 a letter was sent by the Connecticut authorities to those of Rhode Island, complaining that John Crandall had taken possession of about a square mile of land, which he had laid out to his son, on the west side of the Pawcatuck River. On May 14, 1669 he and Joseph Torrey were appointed commissioners for the purpose of conferring with the Connecticut authorities concerning these land disputes. Certain individuals lent thirty five shillings to the Colony of Rhode Island in order to pay the expenses of Mr. Crandall to Connecticut. A few months later, on November 18, the governor and assistants of Connecticut sent a letter complaining that John Crandall and some others had appropriated a large tract of land in the township of Stonington, Connecticut. A reply to this complaint was sent by the Town of Westerly on March 11, 1669, signed by John Crandall and Tobias Saunders, in which all illegal seizure of land or other offense against the Colony of Connecticut was denied, and a counter charge was made; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs that we have sustained by them for many years." In 1671 the dispute grew so serious that Mr. Crandall, with others, were actually carried off by the Connecticut authorities and was imprisoned at Hartford. On May 2 of that year the Rhode Island assembly advised him not to yield to Connecticut's claims and assured him of the Colony's support and that his financial losses would be borne by the Colony.

The Reverend John Crandall was twice married. The name of his first wife is unknown, but she died in 1670 and was buried on August 2 of that year. He married, second, Hannah Gaylord.

The subjoining summary recorded events in the later life of John Crandall "of Newport and Westerly, Rhode Island" is from Austin's Authoritative Volumes "Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island," and "One Hundred and Sixty Allied Families of Rhode Island."

John Crandall was early associated with the Baptists, at Newport, subsequently becoming the first Elder of that denomination at Westerly.

1651, July 21. He, with John Clarke and Obediah Holmes, "being the representatives of the Church of Newport, upon the request of William Witter, of Lynn, arrived there, he being a brother in the Church, who by reason of his advanced age, could not undertake so great a journey as to visit the church. William Witter lived about two miles out of Lynn and the next day being Sunday, they spent in religious services at his house, and were there apprehended by two constables at the instance of the Massachusetts authorities, while Mr. Clarke was preaching, and the next morning they were sent to prison in Boston. For the dire offense of holding this little meeting, and on other frivolous pretexts Obediah Holmes was fined, imprisoned and whipped.

1651, July 31. He was sentenced to pay a fine of L5 or be publically whipped. He was released from prison upon his promise of appearing at next court.

1658; 59; 62; 63 Commissioner.

1661, August 27, he and eight others signed a letter of the Court of Commissioners of Rhode Island, concerning a tract of land at Westerly, that they and others desired approbation and assistance of Rhode Island in settling upon.

1661, September 9. He had half a share at Westerly assigned him.

1667, Deputy.

1667, October 17, Westerly. He was complained of in a letter from Connecticut to Rhode Island authorities, for having come on west side of Pawcatuck River and laid out about a mile square of land to his son.

1669, May 14. He and Joseph Torrey were appointed Commissioners to treat with Connecticut relative to jurisdiction of lands. The sum of 35 shillings was lent to the Colony of Rhode Island by individuals for John Crandall's voyage to Connecticut.

1669, May 18. His name was on the List of Inhabitants. (Westerly)

1669, November 18. A letter was sent him by Governor and Assistants, of Connecticut, complaining that he and others had appropriated a great parcel of Stonington township, and seeking for satisfaction.

1669, March 11. He and Tobias Saunders answered on behalf of Westerly denying any guilt in matter complained of; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs we have sustained by them several years." The letter closes: "As for your advice to agree with those, our neighbors of Stonington and the other gentlemen we hope that your colony and ours, will in the first place lovingly agree, and then we question not but that there will be an agreement between us and our neighbors of Stonington, and the rest of the gentlemen."

1670, June 19. He as Conservator of the Peace of Westerly, wrote a letter a little prior to this date, to the Governor of Rhode Island, informing him "of an entrance made into our jurisdiction by some of Connecticut, and of their carrying away some inhabitants prisoners."

1670, August 2. His first wife was buried.

1670, October 3. He deeded eldest son, John of Newport, "for love &c., all my goods, chattels, debts, household utensils, and all other personal estate, movable or immovable quick or dead-- putting him in quiet and peaceable possession by payment of 1s in silver, by his son."

1670, 1671. Deputy from Westerly.

1671, January 30. Bills were allowed by Assembly, for hire of a boat to go to Narragansett with Mr. John Crandall Sr. in the year 1670 and for hire of Sarah Reape's horse for use of Mr. John Crandall to go to Hartford.

1671, May 2. He, having been "as is asserted" apprehended and now is in durance, by the Colony of Connecticut and having desired the advice of the Governor &c. of Rhode Island whether to give bond or abide imprisonment, the Colony will bear his charges and endeavor to justify his actings therein.

1671, May 6. He was allowed 20 shillings, to bear his charge to Connecticut.

1675, January 23. In a letter from Ruth Burdick, to her father Samuel Hubbard, of Newport, she says, "Brother Crandall hath the ague and fever still, and have been but little amongst us this winter, Sister Crandall is brought to bed with a son, and is in a hopeful way." (Ruth Burdick's daughter Deborah (Samuel Hubbard's granddaughter) later married Elder John Crandall's son (by his first wife) Joseph.

He died in Newport, having moved there on account of the Indian War.

1676, November 29. Under this date Samuel Hubbard, writes from Newport to Mr. Edward Stennitt in London, and after speaking of the devastation caused by King Philip's War, he recounts the recent deaths in the First Baptist Church. He says: "of the old' church, First Mr. Joseph Torrey, then my dear brother John Crandall, then Mr. John Clarke, then William Weeden, a deacon, then John Salmon; a sad stroke in very deed, young men and maids to this day I never knew or heard the like in New England." Samuel Hubbard also wrote a few years later; "my dear brother John Crandall of Squamicut, is dead and his first wife, a Sabbath keeper, the first that died in that blessed faith in New England."

His second wife was Hannah Gaylord, born 30 Jan. 1647, and probably was daughter of William and Ann (Porter) Gaylord, of Windsor, Connecticut. The said Hannah married a Crandall as is shown by the settlement of her brother Hezekiah Gaylord's estate in 1677. Elder John Crandall died at Newport November 29, 1676. From the compiler the following data of Elder John has been furnished: That he was born probably Shropshire, England near the Welch border. The western portion of this county was formerly a part of Wales and later annexed to England. Hence the reason why some authorities have made the assertion that Elder John Crandall was a Welchman. One good authority states that he died 29 Nov. 1676 at the age of 67 yrs. which would indicate that he was born in 1609 and judging from the known ages of some of his associates, this would seem probable. His first wife by whom he had 7 children has not been positively identified but record shows that she died 1 Aug. 1670. (Mildred Small of Etna, Pa. states she found in the records in Washington, D.C. that the first wife of Elder John was Mary Opp who died 20 Aug. 1669) Elder John married second, Hannah Gaylord, b. 30 Jan. 1647; d. 3 Aug. 1678. After the death of Eld. John his widow married, second, John Cottrell, Jr. Hannah Gaylord was the dau. of William (William, John Nicholas) and Ann (Porter) Gaylord.

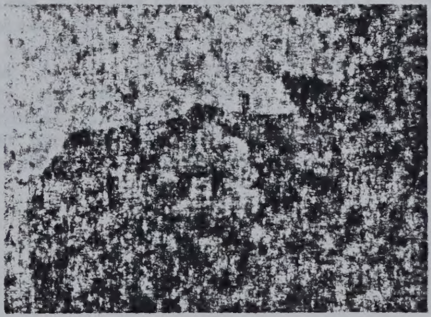
Home of John C. Crandall



This is the old Crandall homestead mentioned in the deed from the Harisons to John Crandall 1864. He lived here for many years before the deed was finally given. Located in Pierrepont, St. Lawrence Co. N.Y. Crandallville but later changed to Howardville when the Howards were granted the Post Office. The compiler and his father were both born here.

Hubbard was dau. of Samuel and Tacy Cooper Hubbard. Tacy (Tasy, Tase) Cooper came to Dorchester, Mass. 9 June 1634 from England and was married to Samuel Hubbard when she was 28 yrs. old. (Hist. of Windsor, Conn. from the Literary Diary of Ezra Stiles, Vol. 3 p. 28). Samuel Hubbard came to Salem, Mass. in 1633 and married Tacy Cooper 4 Jan. 1636 at Windsor, Conn. by Mr. Ludlow. They were both in the party that marched through the wilderness from Watertown, Mass. during the terrible winter of 1635 to become the founders of Conn. They were persecuted in Mass. for expressing their Baptist views. Samuel Hubbard finally in 1648 found refuge in R.I. where he was associated with Eld. John Crandall and others in founding the colony of R.I. which stands above all others for its democratic principles.

Rev. Joseph Crandall was an ordained minister of the Seventh Day Baptist Church in Newport, R.I. 8 May 1715.
